

PATZ & HALL

Wine Spectator

Tasting Highlights: 15 California Reds

“New reviews of Pinot Noirs, Cabernets, Merlots and more from across the Golden State, including some good values: If you bought a bottle of each of these wines, you’d have a leg up on stocking a cellar (or at least a closet) with a nice variety of red wines for all your friends’ tastes as we head into barbecue season. Here we offer Pinot Noirs from Patz & Hall...representing the Russian River and Sonoma Coast appellations.”

2008 Jenkins Ranch Russian River Pinot Noir

“This ripe, rich, cola- and sassafras-laced Pinot shows dried currant and berry flavors, with touches of herb, sage, sour cherry and spice. Turns supple midpalate, ending with ripe, fleshy tannins.”

90 Points

-James Laube
May 3, 2010